

How to Support the Adam Smith Institute

You can support all the important work of the Adam Smith Institute through an individual or company subscription.

The ASI is non-profit. Its effectiveness depends on the voluntary support of people who appreciate its key role in promoting the values of individual freedom, smaller government, lower taxes, deregulation and competition.

You too can support these values – and become more closely involved with the Institute’s work – as an Adam Smith Insider.

With a minimum subscription of £150 for individuals, or £500 for companies and institutions, you’ll receive advance copies of our major reports, our policy briefings, monthly updates, and advance details of our conferences and events. And, of course, your financial contribution will be helping to safeguard and promote those core values for which the Adam Smith Institute stands.

You can set up a recurring annual subscription today by filling in the Standing Order Mandate below, and returning it to Dr Eamonn Butler, Director, Adam Smith Institute, 23 Great Smith Street, London SW1P 3BL.
